The Hyde Park Barracks Café.

The perfect venue for a day trip, the historic Hyde Park Barracks Museum is a must see. Built in 1819 by convict architect Francis Greenway to accommodate his fellow convicts, until it's closure in 1848. It has had many occupants through the years. It was an Immigration Depot for single female immigrants from 1848 to 1886, and a female asylum from 1862 to 1886. From 1887 to 1979 law courts and government offices were based at the Barracks, and now operates as a museum for all to explore.

Set on these significant grounds is the exclusive Hyde Park Barracks Café, which offers groups breakfast, brunch, morning and afternoon tea, and lunch options.
